

MAD Academy Song Lyrics

Max the Greyhound

Max the greyhound liked to run,
In sunshine or in the rain.
He could run for miles and miles
And was faster than a train.

He ran ten, twenty, thirty, forty, fifty miles and then
He ran ten, twenty, thirty, forty, fifty miles again.
And whenever Max zoomed past,
People shouted, 'Wow, he's so fast!'

He'd run through woods and over hills.
Across ditches he would leap.
Past hens, horses pigs and cows,
And past fields of grazing sheep.

He ran ten, twenty, thirty, forty, fifty miles and then
He ran ten, twenty, thirty, forty, fifty miles again.
And whenever Max zoomed past,
People shouted, 'Wow, he's so fast!'

At evening-time he run back home
And through the door he'd creep.
He'd have his tea and settle down
For a long and restful sleep.

He ran ten, twenty, thirty, forty, fifty miles and then
He ran ten, twenty, thirty, forty, fifty miles again.
And whenever Max zoomed past,
People shouted, 'Wow, he's so fast!'
